
PSYCHOMETRIC TESTS FOR CAREERS

What every individual needs to know about preparing for Psychometric and Aptitude tests & SSB Interviews required for various careers.

Programme Overview:

Many organizations are nowadays assessing candidates by administering psychometric tests like the Verbal, Non Verbal Intelligence tests, Career Aptitude tests and Emotional Quotient Tests. These tests have become important and play a major determining factor apart from Group Discussion and Interviews for candidate selection. Also, there is a huge number of candidates aspiring for career in the Armed Forces as an Officer for which they have to face the Services Selection Board (SSB). The SSB analyses the candidate psychologically in various environments and finally decide on his/her recommendation for training at the academies. It is imperative that the candidate should know and understand the steps involved in every process and psychologically apply them to maintain a balance in his/her personality. We would be providing the trainings for SSB keeping these objectives in mind and ensure an amazing change in your SSB performance.
